Qumra is based on 5 values
Knowledge, art, quality, effort and sharing. The things that helped to achieve success and to build a world full of social integration, to use the knowledge and to free the artist's potentials, to highlight the Arabian Identity. Qumra Team are committed to these values in their work, we believe that our values is our identity. We work hard to make this meaning under our noses.

Our values

A world makes you love!

Sharing

Qumra is breathing for the love of photography
 Paying the effort to empower the journey of the visual and artistic development.
 Qumra is enabling the passionate photographers to build a filming and photography community full of awareness, stands on interacting and exchanging the experiences with the best international and local expertise to present educational and social events, to jump from the knowledge phase into the experiment phase.

Qumra was able to create local and international partnerships to enhance the qualitative development, artistically and technically. Where we carefully chose our partners, to resume at what others posed and to create like no one ever did.
 Thus, the passionate photographer can send an artistic tasteful cutting-edge message interprets in installing the social and artistic values that we believe in.

Because we believe that development is symbiosis.

Quality is a responsibility
 Qumrah's responsibility is to boost the philosophy of obtaining photography equipment for the passionate photographers, to keep up with their visual aspirations and to provide the technical advice to reach their up-front results.

Knowledge

Qumra believes that free knowledge is a demand to make the human being life better, so we work on freeing and triggering the knowledge.

We contribute in facilitating the specialized knowledge and delivering ideas. Qumra believes that the team of professional photographers who lived in the crafting of image and cinema details, whom they can cover the needs of the passionate photographer and guide him to the better solutions.

Qumra or the Camera, is a name based on a legacy of shared knowledge in the Islamic traditions that freed knowledge in the world.

Photography

Free workshops with well-known photographers with presenting techniques and experiments of the Open graphic tours in addition to Contests and Challenges for attendees with no fees.

Video

Establishing workshops with small fees or returned money when purchasing, discussing main topics that interests professionals in filming and lighting through known names locally and internationally.

The Free Knowledge

It's the knowledge that builds but not to demolish
Creates art but not dynamite.

Qumra has a huge database for its partners and users internally and externally through the annual program that we work on attending the events and specialized activities with what implements our message, which is providing knowledge with no returns. That is what Qumra implied in the past years.

"We believe in passion that touches the souls gently, and converts the idea into action.

We are a team that tries to create beauty in the middle of the life clatters, deliberately!

We believe in photography passionate because art is not a new-born philosophy, therefore the artist is always capricious.
"whenever there is a seer there is beauty"

We believe in visnomy and creativity, there is no beauty if the visnomy disappears.

We believe that whom who keeps his beautiful eye, never gets old.

Qumra believes in supporting art and artist, celebrating them and being an essential part of their events.

We hope that our products in Qumra Cameras, lenses, lighting or equipment converts to be a visnomy tools between the artist's hands Thus, to amaze our souls..."

" .All for one and one for all"

Alexandre Dumas

In Qumra, the work is grate! For all art lovers; because we do what we love to love what we do. We really care about the professional work, to reach to the point of success.

We do team work! Side by side as a film crew, where all the team members are committed to their jobs in a perfect way to insure the success for the whole team. Qumra work environment works on providing a friendly productive space, to enhance the professionalism that is built on the mutual respect.

Qumra spreads the brotherhood among the team, to present the best experience for the passionate photographers. The team are responsible to help the passionate photographers in solving their technical problems and to guide them to the right choices for the right needs and to always help!

A flowery opened space! For all the possibilities that turn around science, art and beauty. We care about your brain with coffee aroma that is competing the taste of chocolate, dipped in our carefully picked music playlist to a space full of knowledge we called "Makanah"

It's a space for our dreams and the hope that we are putting on. A jewel we wait for its flash so it creates and tells stories to lift us way up in the sky. In Makanah, years of lights are waiting for you to dive in the seas of knowledge, art and beauty!

Cinema Production

The day was coming! And the clock is ticking to the most important political event, when the president of USA was visiting Saudi Arabia, therefore we were accountable about telling the story and transferring it as it is in a team work.

Then when the land exposed its beauty to us, we sailed to Ras Alshaikh Humaid to cover Neum and The Red Sea Projects.

After that, to Makkah the holy mosque to cover Hajj ٢٠١٧ with photography and video by E-photographers.

Qumra had glamorous partnerships in the past years through contributing in the professional production to create a visual creative content by Saudi hands starting by the scenario, the production team to the voice and editing.

Before it all begun, Qumra believed in the demand of a stage to gather or art works. To create the cinema, to gather artists in the way of creating an integral art work with the story, scenario, acting, decoration, filming, voices, music, directing and a list of opportunities exists through the Film Making process.

Moreover, an extraordinary partnership achieved between Qumra and Saudi Film Festival in the second, third and fourth versions 2015 - 2016 - 2017 included the cooperation in establishing the workshops, inviting the festival guests and the cognitive existence.

In addition to the programs and events presented to film makers and script writers through prizes and competitions are still the start of implementing our role in the culture, entertainment and art fields to create a visual content printed in our homeland history.
